Soldiers Bay Blue Waters

Let us take you there...

An off-the-beaten-track feel and serene vibe have led to this long-established resort with its secret coves being voted Antigua and Barbuda's Leading Hotel in the World Travel Awards for the last nine years. It's particularly popular for honeymoons and anniversaries, not least for its remote Cove Suites deep in the lush gardens, with access to exclusive infinity pools. There are also private-pool villas perfect for holidaying with family and/or friends, with up to six bedrooms.

The hotel celebrated its 60th anniversary in 2020 but the number of repeat guests shows that it hasn't lost any of the charm resulting from its remaining a family-run property. And it's a resort that positively encourages its guests to explore its very special island-home, with excursions including helicopter rides, horse-riding along the beach, deep-sea fishing, golf at Antigua's PGA-rated course and nature walks. On-site, think eco-friendly, non-motorised water sports in those idyllic Caribbean waters.

There's plenty of scope to relax, too: in the spa with its cliff-edge pool and organic treatments, during a morning or sunset session in the yoga pavilion, in the freshwater pools or on the a blissful white-sand beach. If you're here with children, they'll love making friends in one of the school-holiday activities.

Of Blue Waters' three enchanting restaurants, romantic clifftop Cove in its candlelit hall with flaming torches and sea views stands out for its Caribbean and French fusion cuisine, but no less decadent and delicious are the classic afternoon teas served on the Palm patio. And you can enjoy your meal all the more in the reassurance that the resort sends its food waste to local farmers. Indeed, this is an outstandingly eco-friendly resort with its own dedicated Green Team.
